TO RAILROAD COMPANIES AND CAR BUILDERS.—
I the owners of the Fuller Patent for Rubber Car Springs, she only original and genuine patent in existence, invite beattention of the railroad public to the fallewine, legal opinion of the Hom. R. H. Gillet. Late Solicitor of the United States Treasury; and of F. B. Cutting, Eq., for counsel, toucking the validity of Fullers Patent, and the litegality of the claim under which Ray's springs are manufactured. All orders for Car Springs filled with promptitude at fully cents a pound, guaranteeing them to be equal in all respects to any now in use in the United States.

BORACE H. DAY, 23 Courtlands street, N. Y.
New York, March 22, 1852.

Signature of this cate, in relation to W. C. Feller's and F. M. Ray's patents for India Rubber Springs, its readword. I state the repty, that I have been one of the counsel for Mr. Tolled in the Mr. Feller's patent was granted in England on the 22d of October, 1845, and in the United States on the 23th of October, 1845, and in the United States on the 23th of October, 1845, and in the United States on the 23th of October, 1846, and in the United States on the 23th of October, 1846, and in the United States on the 23th of October, 1846, and in the United States, in their patent to Fuller: and second, because Ray's patent was issued contrary to the oxpress provisions of the statute, and on that account is utterly void. No suit can be avastaned upon it by Ray, against any one. The Commissioner of Patents, in his order for its issue, indicated his doubts on the right to issue it, (his prodecessor, Mr. Burke, hawing expressly refused Ray a patent hand says he gives Ray the benefit of his doubts, and consequently made the order. The error in granting this patent to Ray, under the facts and law of the case, is so palpable that I have been retained by Mr. Fuller to institute a suit in the United States Circont Court to set it ashie, and for many papering a bill to be died at one. Interesting from Philadelphia. GREAT CONFLAGRATION-LOSS ONE MILLION OF DOLLARS-DEATH CAUSED BY STABBING-ESCAPE FROM PRISON, ETC.

PHILADELPHIA, March 28, 1852. One of the most destructive conflagrations ever experienced in this city, broke out this morning, between twelve and one o'clock, in Bank street, which is bounded street. Three of the largest importing houses in Phila-delphia are in ashes. The fire, when first discovered, was principally confined to Messrs. Lewis & Co's store, but it soon developed itself, and spread to the adjoining houses, occupied by the Messrs. Stuart & Brother and Gihon & Co., both of which were entirely burned to the ground, causing a loss of over $500,000.

The following, as near as can be ascertained, is the amount of property destroyed :-Stuart & Brother, who occupied the stores Nos. 13 Bank alley, and 14 Strawberry street, it is estimated, have Gihon's store, $75,000. E. M. Davis & Co., $1,000.

S. Edwards, cooper, $1,000. The insurances, as far as ascertained, are as follows :-Lewis & Brother, importers of British goods, have an insurance of $25,000 in a London office, and an amoun in Philadelphia and New York offices sufficient to cove their entire loss.

Gibon & Co. and Stewart & Brother have each $25,000 in London offices. In addition, Gibon & Co. were covered by insurance in the Facific company of New York, and in several offices in this city, the names of which have not been secretained. Stewart & Brother have also a sufficient amount of insurance to cover their stock.

At ten o'clock the smouldering ruins again burst into flames, which were soon subdued.

The fire was doubliess caused by an incendiary, for when Mr. Lewis's bookkeeper (Mr. Ashmead) was leaving the store at ten o'clock last evening, he states that everything was safely put in order, the gas lights put out, &c.

Another fire broke out at five o'clock, in the lumber yard of Williams & Brown, on the corner of Green and Tenth streets which destroyed a large amount of tumber.

Jeremiah Thompson, the man who was wounded in the hand by four men whom he detected in robbing his premises on the 12th instant, died last night, at the hospital, from the effects of the wound.

A convict, known as Doctor Adems, escaped from our county prison last night, by breaking away the window of his cell, and foreing himself through the apecture, which is only six inches square, and scaling the wall with a rope ladder, which he had made of the cotton filling used in weaving. He stripped himself, and left all his clothes behind.

THE VIRGINIA DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION-CLOSING PROCEEDINGS—RESOLUTIONS, ETC.

THE VIRGINIA DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION—
CLOSING PROCEEDINGS—RESOLUTIONS, ETC.

[From the Field mend Times, March 27.]

The democracy of Virginia met again, yesterday morning, and adjourned size die about one o'clock P. M., after framing an electoral ticket and adopting a piatform of principles. When the business of the convention was over, various members were called on for speeches. In response to these calls, Mesers, Wise, of Accomas, Tucker, of Frederick, and Redinger, of Jefferson, addressed the assembly. Mr. Wise's harangue was for the most part, discursive and pointless, but occasionally quite amusing. He referred to the conduct of Gen. Riley in California, three years ago, as a monstrous usurpation of power on the part of Mr. Fillmore's administration, and avowed his determination to make an issue with the whigs, on that question, in the approaching canvass. He expressed his surprise that the democrats had never made this issue with the administration herstofore. Mr. Tucker, of Frederick, glorified the platform which the democracy had that day erected, but took occasion to say that he did not expect or require, as an indispensable condition to his support that the, nominee of the Eddimore Convention should come fully up to that platform. It would be crough for him and the democracy of Virginia, if such nominee was less objectionable than the candidate of the whig party. Mr. T. said there was one act of President Fillmore's administration which ought to damn him forever in the eyes of the Southern people, he included to the course of Mr. Fillmore in reference to the dispute between Texas and New Mexico, when the President had dared to threaten Texas with the military force of the federal government if she did not surrender a position of her territory, and that, too, when a free soil Congress was offering a bribe to her sovereignty and honor.

This called up the Hon. Fayette McMullen, member of Congress from the Scott district, who domanded to be heard in his own vindication. He said he had voted for the

1. That the true relations between the States and the federal government, and the true rules for the construction of the constitution, are correctly set forth in the resolutions and report of 1788 and 50, of the General Assembly of Virginia, and the dectrines therein expounded are hereby adopted and realifiment.

2. That Congress has no power to appropriate, directly or indirectly, the proceeds of the sales of the public lands or to grant, directly or indirectly, the public lands are they adopted and realifiment.

5. That specific duties taxing, as they do, the low priced necessaries of the poor as heavily as the costly inxuries of the rich, are unequal, indust, and edious; that duties designed for protection, foster one branch of industry and cherish one section of the country at the expense of others, and are unterly inconsistent with justice, sound policy, and democratic Principles; and that we are opposed to any increase of the duties on imports, especially on articles of general and necessary consumption, such as iron, coal, sugar, sait, and course contons.

4. That the idental government ought to adhere in its foreign policy to the maxims inculcated by the father of his country, and by the father of democracy.

5. That we reaffure the resolutions of the Baitimore conventions of 1844 and 1848, as far as applicable to the present condition of the country.

7. That we approve of the mode of voting herefores pursued by the virginia delegates in the Baitimore conventions, and recommend that they continue the rule of casting the vote of the whole State by a majority of the districts.
